

The 2019 Croatian Society of Clinical Cytology (CSCC) and American Society of Cytopathology (ASC) Joint Cytopathology Workshop

Zagreb, Croatia

September 20-21, 2019

Dear colleagues and friends,

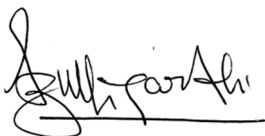

We are truly proud to announce and delighted to invite you to participate in “The 2019 CSCC and ASC Joint Cytopathology Workshop“, which will take place in Zagreb, on September 20-21, 2019.

This interactive cytology course/workshop will cover a wide range of cytology topics that will be of much interest to not only practicing cytopathologists but also to the residents/fellows, cytotechnologists and other medical specialists involved in cytopathology in everyday clinical practice. The course will include discussions on new and emerging technologies, their application in routine cytology as well as their role in the clinical management algorithms. The lectures will enlighten the attendees on the significant diagnostic and therapeutic utility of small samples like FNA and exfoliative cytology. The didactic lectures will be followed by exclusive slide seminars meant to enrich attendee’s experience with interesting and challenging unknown case discussions providing plenty of opportunities to interact with the speakers in an up, close and personal fashion during and after the sessions.

Early autumn in Zagreb is colourful, pleasantly warm, full of people and cultural events, so we hope that beside immersing in cytology, you will find the time to discover and enjoy the amazing capital of Croatia and its surroundings.

We eagerly look forward to welcoming you with joy!
